Reading: Identifying Main Idea and Details through this week's story "Penguin Chick." We will begin reading groups this week. Groups are flexible and can change.

Spelling: Our words this week focus on the long o sound using the o, oa, and ow spellings.

Writing: This week we will be working on developing ideas into stories and moving through the steps of the writing process.

Math-This week's skills work with identifying and continuing number patterns, elapsed time, and Unit 1 test.

Social Studies-We will begin our U.S. Symbols project. Students will work with a partner to locate key information about U.S. Symbols and present their findings to the class.

Mystery Readers-Please the sign up sheet with you selected dates as soon as possible if you are able to read to our class!

This Week's BIST TIP-Children change their misbehavior when they are able to look at themselves and accept responsibility for their behavior. To do this, children need to feel safe to express their feelings and reasons for their actions. As adults, we provide that safety at school and home by taking the time to really listen to the child. When the child and adult are calm, it is easier for the child to accept the responsibility of their actions and talk about making better choices.
