

Learning Styles Assignment

Written Report due November 6

Oral Report due November 12

---

Written Report:

You are to research your assigned Learning Style model and type a 4 page double spaced report using font size 12 in MLA format.

What to include in your report:

*A description of the model

*Pros and cons or criticisms of the model – There are critics who have written articles about the models and why they think it is good and/or why they think it is not good. Tell what the critics say.

*What are the characteristics of each type of learner in the model?

*What implications does this have for the teacher of these different types of learners? I want an explanation for each type not an overall explanation. What techniques can be used for each type of learner?

Bibliography – at least 5 sources cited using correct format

This grade will count as your 2nd six-week exam grade.

Oral Report:

You are to give an oral report over your learning style model. When doing your oral presentation, you will need to take into consideration all the different learning styles you learned about in your research, and you will need to use the techniques you found that can be used to teach the different types of learners in your presentation.

This grade will count as your 4th six-week project grade. You will be given 10 to 15 minutes to present your report. Your presentation must include an activity and a visual.
