

Name _____

Family Times

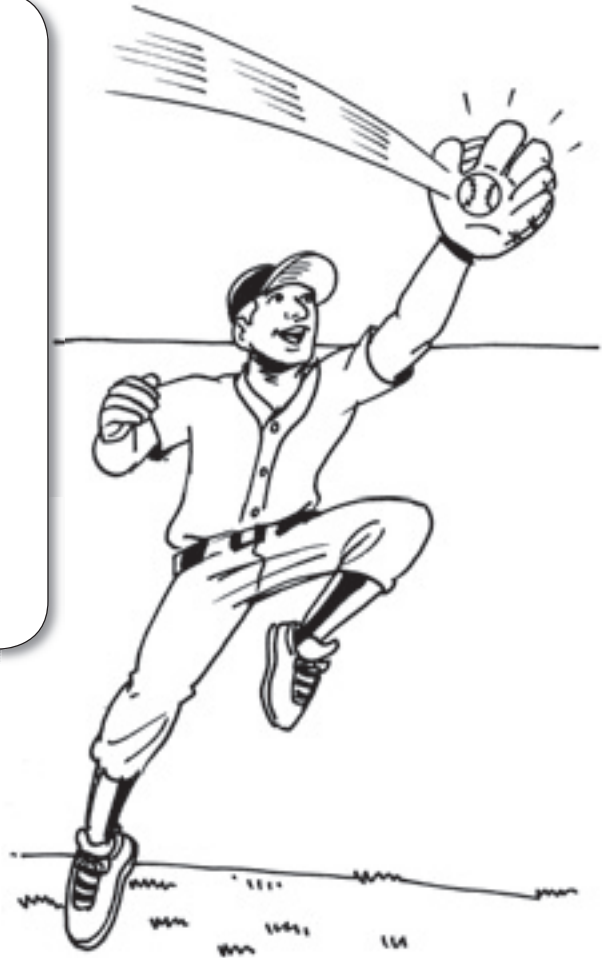

Summary

The Gymnast

What is it like to try gymnastics? As a young boy, Gary envies his cousin who takes gymnastics. Gary tries to learn too. He vividly describes his feelings as he rolls, flips, and cartwheels for the first time.

Activity

Sports Center With your family, recall outstanding sports moments you each have seen or experienced. Then talk with family members about what sport they would like to succeed at.

Comprehension Skill

Draw Conclusions

A conclusion is a decision you reach when you think about facts and details. Draw conclusions as you read. Your conclusions should be logical and well supported.

Activity

How Was Your Day? Ask a family member to tell you about the things that happened during his or her day. When you have heard your family member's story, decide whether he or she probably felt it was a good day or a bad day. Explain the thinking you used as you drew your conclusion.